

Doctoral Education Work Group Meeting #4 – 2/2/12

Discussion Summary

- OIRP provides additional information illuminating how doctoral students are funded across the Lawrence and Edwards campuses, discussing in particular where money comes from to fund various types of doctoral appointments and that it varies widely by college/school and department.
- Review the definitions of various types of funding sources used for doctoral appointments.
- Work group begins to identify and outline the various models used at the school/college/unit level for doctoral funding.
- Discuss reasons why KU has a heavy focus on GTAs.
- Continued discussion on potential action steps and models for improving doctoral funding.