

Community on our Campus

Campuses and communities across the country are experiencing increases in harassment and hatred both implicit and explicit in the wake of our recent election. Every student, staff, and faculty member at KU deserves not only safety, but a sense of belonging on our campus. We urge leaders at KU to be more explicit in their condemnation of harassment and acts of discrimination. We echo the statements released by Student Senate and Provost Bendapudi's remarks on social media encouraging individuals who experience or witness discrimination, harassment, or violence in any form to report it as soon as possible to KU Public Safety Office (kupso@ku.edu or 785.864.5900) or the Office of Institutional Opportunity & Access (ioa@ku.edu or 785.864.6414).
